Terra Trading

Terra Trading

Let the freshness of the fruits produced in the Colombian Andes transport you to your origin, to a place where flowering crops coexist with a native forest… to a magic location where scents and colors remind you of the tropic.

In the land of the joy, the home of hundreds of happy employees who work with passion and courage, so that Terra Trading can bring to the whole world the nutrition, freshness and naturalness of our fruits.

In Terra Trading we have the support of Central del Campo, a company dedicated to agricultural production and our packing house Packing Parnaso, allowing us to guarantee the traceability and the fruit supply, to provide a transparent and personalized business relationship, in order to deliver our oranges, lemons and avocados, with the size, color, flavor and food safety required.

Colombia, with its privileged weather and fertile land, is an ideal location for our products farming.

In Terra trading we have more than 10 years of experience in the international market of fresh produce. We are committed with our products traceability in each step of the supply chain.
